FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The appointment of two new instructors and a part-time lecturer in the Montana State University School of Business Administration has been announced by Dr. Gordon B. Castle, acting president of MSU. They are Edgar T. Busch, Jack R. Dobbins, and Frederick Harris.

Busch will teach courses formerly taught by Dr. Albert T. Helbing, who is serving as acting dean of the School of Business Administration. The new instructor has a bachelor of science degree from Indiana University, a bachelor of foreign trade degree from the American Institute for Foreign Trade, and a master of business administration degree from Denver University.

Dobbins, a 1949 graduate of MSU and a practicing certified public accountant in Missoula, will be a part-time lecturer. He is a member of the American Institute of C.P.A.'s, the Montana Society of C.P.A.'s, and the National Assn. of Tax Accountants. He belongs to the Missoula Kiwanis Club, Elks Club, and Toastmasters Club. He is married and has three children.

Harris was an instructor in the MSU School of Business Administration from 1955-57, and at Carroll College in 1954-55. He earned a bachelor's degree from Macalester College in Minnesota in 1950 and a master of science degree from the University of North Dakota in 1953. Last year he was a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming, where he worked toward his doctorate.
